

Where are the church services?

With winter weather ahead of us, it is often tempting to stay by the fire rather than go out in the cold to church. Founder of the Moody Bible Institute, D. L. Moody, was once concerned about a friend who had been missing from church. Thinking him to be ill, he went round to the house. The friend explained he could be a good Christian without going to church.

By way of an answer, Moody picked up the tongs on the hearth and lifted a brightly glowing coal out onto the tiles. Both men watched the glow fade and turn to pale ash. At that, he silently let himself out of the house. His friend was back in church the next Sunday. We might not get along with all of our fellow Christians but we can learn from each other and keep the spark alive. Come to Clarborough when we have a service, and when we do not have one there are others in the group. Lifts can be arranged.
