

An exhibition of work by Amina Khan at the Retford Hub

The next 'must see' exhibition features the work of Amina Khan. It is on now in the Gallery and runs until 22 June. Originally from Liverpool but now based in Gainsborough, she studied Fashion and Textiles at Manchester, completed a P.G.C.E in Liverpool and qualified as an art teacher. In the course of her teaching career she was Head of Art in a preparatory school in Surrey. Numerous exhibitions of her work have appeared in Nottinghamshire, Surrey, Lincolnshire and Liverpool.

Amina says, 'I am pleased to present my new collection at The Hub in Retford. It is both contemporary and abstract, and focuses mainly on my love of colour, pattern and texture. There are five themes: abstract paintings, floral, abstract landscapes, seahorses/ butterflies and Pop Art.

The work is varied and could be seen as a retrospective as it shows my progression over the years. My first love is to paint nature, most especially flowers, butterflies, and landscapes. My colours are vibrant and intense. I enjoy painting both from life and in the abstract, and the works of Georgia O'Keefe, Gustav Klimt, Monet and Michael Kaws have made a lasting impression on my approach.'

Amina is also regularly in The Hub, where she runs holiday workshops for children, including this year's series of summer holiday classes. These focus on defined skills and techniques, in levels from beginner to accomplished, including watercolour, acrylic, mixed media, silk painting and drawing.

A maximum of five people attend, so that individual attention, and therefore progress, is assured throughout the day. Contact The Hub for details: 01777 860 414
